LAKE LUNDGREN BIBLE CAMP OCTOBER 2023

Hello friends and family! I hope you guys are all doing well it's been a great fall and so many great things have happened here this fall. Many of you may not know, but I became an intern at Lake Lundgren Bible Camp this year. I really wanted to surround myself with other believers that could encourage me in my faith and also so that I may be able to serve God in great ways here at camp. I want to share with you guys what I have been up to while working here at camp.

A VERY INTERESTING START TO THE INTERNSHIP

Okay I definitely wasn't planning for what happened in the first week, it was quite interesting honestly and wasn't what I was expecting. Day one I got there I was unloading and I didn't have anything to do that day because my internship didn't start till tomorrow so I had the bright idea to power wash the steps that lead down to the lake. So yeah never used one of those before, was a learning experience none the less. I also found a fawn (baby deer) stuck in a soccer net and nobody was on camp in the morning yet so had to call one of my roommates Jordan and we cut the fawn out. Also the first day of my internship we were going to tour Iron Mountain, but I had to direct traffic. We were stuck at a train track and neither car wanted to go and they waited like five to ten minutes so I hopped out of the passenger seat and directed them across and let them know trains were coming. What a blast!

PROJECTS AND JOBS DURING THE WEEK DAYS

Some of the projects that I have been doing around camp have included chopping trees down, leaf blowing bike trails, supplying wood for fires, planning for summer, opening camp (Make sure everything is ready before guests arrive), deep cleaning cabins, helping Tim with projects around camp, and helping Sponz with building another hangout village (which are maintenance volunteers did a lot of the work on). With all these projects I have been taught a lot and have gotten a lot of experiences that I will be able to use for the glory of God. The QR code = Trees coming down.

RETREAT WEEKENDS, WHAT THEY LOOK LIKE

Weekend retreats tend to be really busy, some of the things I do during these retreats is run fat tire bikes, ref flag football, run any of the program areas (archery, tomahawks, ninja course, etc), help out with snacks, wagon rides, battlegrounds, help dishcrew and custodial, start camp fires (not starting camp on fire, but fires in a pit I'm not into arson don't worry), and much more. But meeting new guests and volunteers has definitely got to be one of the best parts of the retreats.

WHAT I HAVE BEEN LEARNING BIBLE/STUDY

Moving into the fall season I have been taught a lot of things that have been eye opening to me. One of those things comes from a book called "Gospel Fluency." I highly recommend the book. The writer of this book spoke about the Gospel as being like learning a new language. And he is absolutely right! What is the best way to learn a new language? It's not going to school, which one might say, but actually surrounding yourself in that culture. If I want to speak Spanish better, it's best for me to go to a country that speaks Spanish. And it works the same way for the gospel. If I want to speak the gospel better and learn more about it I need to surround myself with people who talk about it all the time. And the other thing I want to bring up that has really been standing out to me is that the Gospel didn't just save us, it is continually saving us every day, the message isn't just important for non-believers, but for us as Christians too. We should remember all the time that Jesus was the one and only perfect sacrifice for us and he went through the pain that we deserved because he loves us.

HOW CAN YOU GUYS BE SUPPORTING ME?

For support this year my goal is to raise $15,000. I'm asking only if you feel called to give, it would be really helpful to me and I know some of you do not have the funds to support in that way, so another way of supporting me is through prayer, I love having people pray for me and trust me it really helps.

WHY WE RAISE SUPPORT HERE AT CAMP

Our paychecks are made possible by financial donors. By staff salaries coming from donations instead of camper fees, we are able to offer camps at lower costs, so families of varying incomes can come to LLBC to experience the Gospel! Thank you all so much for your support through prayer and generous donations you guys have been a blessing to me. I love you guys! Contact: cguy4godl@gmail.com
